Bachelor of Arts in Business Administration

Introduction

UWest offers a Bachelor of Arts degree in Business Administration with concentrations in Accounting, Computer Information Systems, International Business, and Marketing. This program educates students using a cross-functional, cross-cultural perspective to equip them with the intellectual tools they need to assume responsible positions in organizations and to develop them into well-rounded professionals and managers with a capacity for lifelong learning.

The program is designed to ensure that students develop an integrated body of knowledge in the business and management of modern organizations; a set of essential business and management skills including interpersonal leadership, communication, and teamwork skills; a broad capacity for learning, critical thinking, and problem solving; a deep appreciation for the role of culture in managing organizations and dealing with institutional constituents including customers, employees, and suppliers; an effective business and management style that incorporates ethical values, social responsibilities, and personal beliefs; and a global view of personal fulfillment and organizational achievement in the context of societal and cultural values.

Students who attend full-time may earn their bachelor's degree in four years. Students attending part-time may expect a longer time to graduate.

The credit assigned for this course will be determined by the department chair. Students may complete two semesters in practicum for a maximum total of 3 units. Practicum units are not degree applicable.

Graduation Requirements

Students must complete 120 units (including 51 GE units) as designated above with a cumulative GPA of 2.0 or higher. To satisfy the university's residency requirement, undergraduates must complete at least 30 units, including 24 upper division units, at UWest.

Once enrolled, students are expected to complete all remaining business curriculum at UWest. Exceptions to allow transfer credit after a student begins the program must be approved in advance by the department chair and the student must demonstrate cause.

Bachelor of Arts in General Studies

一般學科學士學位

- 南華大學學生若非管理、英文及心理等相關科系，建議攻讀一般學科學士學位
- 在 69 個選修學分中，必須至少選修 42 個高年級學分，同時可以修讀主修領域 18 學分，例如可以主修會計、行銷、國際企業或心理學等科系。
- 主修領域及選修科目與學生在南華主修領域有關，建議同學尋求系主任或系上老師指導

Program Learning Outcomes

The outcomes for General Studies are contained in the Program Learning Outcomes for General Education.

Course Requirements
Area	Required Units
General Education	51, 9 of which must be upper-division
General Studies Electives	69, 42 of which must be upper-division
Total	120

Program Learning Outcomes

* General Education Courses (51 units):

All undergraduates must complete 51 units of general education, including nine units at the upper-division level, as described in the General Education section of this catalog. This requirement is an integral part of UWest's mission to produce well-informed, balanced, versatile, intellectually capable, socially sensitive, and ethically committed graduates in all fields of study.

* General Studies Electives:

Students complete 69 units of elective coursework, including at least 42 units of upper-division courses (numbered 300 or 400). Students may select undergraduate courses from all majors. Courses completed to fulfill general education requirements may not be applied to this requirement.

* General Studies Concentrations:

General Studies majors have the option of selecting among a number of 18-unit concentrations that provide an in-depth focus to their program. Students work with their program advisor to map out their concentration. Courses completed to fulfill a concentration are applied to the General Studies Electives requirement. While a concentration is not required, it is an excellent opportunity for students to establish a foundation for future career paths or graduate studies. Courses completed to fulfill general education requirements may not be applied to a General Studies concentration.

Established concentrations

■ Global Studies:

Integrates business, history, political science, religion, foreign language, culture, and related fields

■ Diversity and Multiculturalism:

Integrates anthropology, sociology, psychology, religion, language, and related fields

■ Contemplative Studies:

Integrates Buddhist studies, meditation, philosophy, and psychology

■ Liberal Arts:

Integrates English, history, philosophy, religion, art, music, foreign language, and literature

■ Psychology:

Coursework in psychology with possible emphasis in either Buddhist psychology or multicultural generalist counseling

■ Business:

Options include general management, non-profit organization management, executive management, human resources management, international business, accounting, finance, marketing, computer information systems, small business/entrepreneurship, and quantitative analysis/analytical methods

Established concentrations

In addition to the concentrations above, students may choose to develop their own concentrations. Each student-developed concentration must include 18 units of courses related to its theme. Students should seek the advice and approval of the General Studies chair when developing such concentrations. These concentrations provide students the opportunity to pursue their special interests and passions. Examples of student-developed concentrations include

- Social Justice and Human Rights
- Contemporary and Historical Relations between East and West
- Interdisciplinary Perspectives and Practices
- Mind and Mindfulness
- Buddha and the Information Age
- Religion and Psychology

Graduation Requirements

Students must complete 120 units as designated above with a cumulative GPA of 2.0 or higher. UWest's residency requirement for the Bachelor of Arts states that at least 30 units, including 24 upper division units, must be completed at UWest.

General Education Program

The General Education program is an integral part of each UWest undergraduate program. All students complete 51 units of General Education (GE) as part of their bachelor's degree requirements. GE course selections reflect UWest's conviction that the higher education of the whole person requires a breadth of knowledge beyond the specialized study and training covered in the majors.

The GE program embodies UWest's role as an intellectual meeting place between East and West in a context informed by Buddhist wisdom and values. Undergraduates engage in a number of interdisciplinary and integrative studies of Eastern and Western philosophy, history, social sciences, media, literature, languages, and art and are encouraged to explore these subjects further. The program develops well-informed, balanced, and intellectually capable graduates who bring social awareness and ethical commitment to all their endeavors.
